BROADWAY THEATER.

Charles Mack in "Come Back to Erin."

In the good romantic plays so thoroughly identified with the Irish type there is always a naturalness, a simplicity, and a heart interest that not only appeals to an Irishman, but to all theatergoers. Irrespective of the fact that it addresses true romantic drama, Irish plays are full of natural wit, singing, dancing and bright dialogue.

"Come Back to Erin," which will be the attraction at the Broadway theater this afternoon and evening, with Mr. Charles E. Mack, the popular and handsome young Irish comedian and singer, with a pipe, with ideal company of players, and an elaborate scenic production, is an attraction of a kind that cannot fail to please the most conservative theatergoer.

The story of the play is of double interest from the fact of its locale being in America as well as in Ireland. Throughout the play there is true native Irish village customs, Irish harp, dancing, fiddling, comedy and a story of heart interest that holds the audience from beginning to end.

Under Sealed Orders.

There is always a peculiar charm to stories of the Nile river and the great desert of Sahara. We have them all in our minds with the mystery, the adventures of valor by brave men, treacherous Arabs, Bedouins of the desert, beautiful victims of the haron and all the romance of the Nile valley. The story in dramatic form, is "Under Sealed Orders," the new play that the Bennett-Moulton company is offering its patrons at the Broad Theater. It is a wide range of possibility in this subject and that the dramatist has made the most of it we are well assured. There is something so weird that it is called "creaky" in the scene where the heroine claims the sanctuary of an Egyptian tomb in order to save her lover's life. It is a unique idea and one that never fails to rouse the audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. The adventures of the English cockney soldier among the ladies of the haron are ludicrous in the extreme and at the same time teach a strong lesson of what the "butter-in" may expect.

The stage settings are new and elaborate and it is one of the most gorgeously costumed plays ever presented in repertoires. Matinees beginning on Tuesday. Ladies' tickets issued for Monday evening. Dances and plays will be presented on Monday evening.

Sheddy's Vaudeville Next Week.

A vaudeville bill to please all who attend has been selected for Sheddy's beginning Monday and continues with comedy and full of catchy music. The latest moving pictures to be seen in the city will always be found at this popular playhouse and a list of the beginning next Monday will be shown that defy comparison. Among those to be shown are "The Unfortunate Pickpocket," "Fun of Death," "Jealous Old Maid," "Duty and Revenge," a very thrilling dramatic scene, and "Lover's Guide," this being a special selection. Hearing the vaudeville show is Miss Rachel Mary Shorey's beautiful little playlet, "One New Year's Eve," presented by the Campbell Shorey Co., will be found one of the sweetest home stories on the vaudeville stage.

Miss Shorey is the author of several sketches, one of which was seen at the Auditorium a short time ago, played by Walter Bedell & Co. in "Uncle David." The story of this little sketch will be found as absorbing and true to life as was "Uncle David."

"The Plymouth Quartet" is a special feature in next week's programme and they all possess rare voices which, blending perfectly, and solos giving by each, will surely be one great big hit. Miss Dorothy Coonan, the dainty soprano comedienne, in popular songs, with a sweet voice and patty appearance, is sure to win herself a good position on the bill.

"Smiling Jimmy Coveny," the comedian with the smile that never wears off, will be heard in songs, parodies and a story teller that can make you laugh some.

Sheddy's is the popular playhouse and next week will test its real capacity, as the programme is a winner, and it is the only place in town where moving pictures of the latest and vaudeville bright and up to date can be seen for 10 cents.

PATTERN FOR REUPHOOT STOCKINGS.

Paris Pattern No. 2780 — All Seams Allowed.

This pattern will be a joy to the stocking maker. Who often throws a stocking away because the foot and sole are beyond any more darning. These feet may be cut from the legs of old stockings or from very fine French hosiery if they are for late autumn or early winter wear, but will be found especially useful for the stockings of little thread or silk, which wear out so quickly. They should be very carefully joined so that the seam will be as unnoticeable as possible. Two styles are given, and if the woman follows the printed directions carefully she should experience no trouble in either the making or the joining of the feet to the leg portion.

The pattern is in eleven sizes—6 to 11, stocking size. No quantities are given for this pattern, as the new sole is cut from the leg portion of an old stocking, the pattern itself being the required size.

Price of pattern, 10 cents.

Order through The Bulletin Company, Pattern Dept., Norwich, Conn.

A Monster Leaf.

Bakers in Germany are fond of making odd experiments, the following being reported from Duleburg in Westphalia. At a children's party recently held in that town there was exhibited and afterward cut up and distributed among the youngsters present, a twist which for size at least has surely rarely been equaled. Weighing no less than 180 pounds, it had a breadth of 1.70 meters and a length of 3.20 meters, and was thus found sufficient to supply a satisfactory afternoon collation to as many as 500 boys and girls.—Bakers Weekly.
